

King's Conference Centre and Hotel

King's Conference Centre and Hotel in Bujumbura has become an important hub for training and peace-building in the nation of Burundi. The venue is run as a sustainable social enterprise, investing in people and ploughing profits into back into transformative youth, community and education initiatives. The hotel has received many accolades for its excellent customer service, being the no.1 traveller-ranked hotel in Burundi on TripAdvisor.

Demand has increased and we are seeking $1.6 million investment to complete the second phase of development, adding new conference and hotel rooms along with improved delegate and guest facilities.

Location: Bujumbura, Burundi
Cost to complete: $1.6m

IMPACT: A nationally-significant social enterprise whose goal is to bring people and groups together around the table - supporting communities, providing training opportunities and promoting peace-building initiatives.
